

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN JOURNALISM

Program Contact: Molly Yanity (Molly.Yanity@quinnipiac.edu)
203-582-5031

The Quinnipiac undergraduate Bachelor of Arts in Journalism program focuses on the principles and practices of news writing and reporting across multiple platforms. The program's mission is to prepare journalism professionals who are superior writers and can effectively report on the diversity of the human experience.

The wide range of elective courses enables students to focus on a specific medium (such as television, online or new media reporting) or news subject (such as sports, entertainment or visual journalism) or take courses across platforms based on their interests and career goals.

¹

All students must complete the 46 credits of the University Curriculum (<http://catalog.qu.edu/academics/university-curriculum/>). Students majoring in Journalism will complete their Integrative Capstone Requirement within the major with JRN 498. In place of those credits, the student will select an additional unrestricted course in the University Curriculum.

²

Core must be completed by end of sophomore year.

Minor Requirement

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts in Journalism program are required to complete a minor (typically 18 credits) that will complement their career and/or personal interests. Students are encouraged to minor outside the School of Communications to acquire subject knowledge beyond their primary field of study, but may choose to minor in any program within or outside the School of Communications in consultation with their advisers.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, students should be able to demonstrate the following competencies:

1. Ability to research, report, write, shoot and edit news stories that conform to professional journalism standards, including the ability to apply basic numerical and statistical concepts.
2. Command of the techniques used to produce and present news in digital, broadcast and print environments, and understand the interconnectedness of these systems.
3. Familiarity with the history of journalism, its social responsibility and the underpinnings of its practice in a culturally and racially diverse society.
4. Understanding of the implications of the First Amendment and the role journalism plays in a democracy.
5. Engagement in the ethical practice of journalism.

Admission Requirements: School of Communications

The requirements for admission into the undergraduate School of Communications programs are the same as those for admission to Quinnipiac University.

Admission to the university is competitive, and applicants are expected to present a strong college prep program in high school. Prospective first-year students are strongly encouraged to file an application as early in the senior year as possible, and arrange to have first quarter grades sent from their high school counselor as soon as they are available.

For detailed admission requirements, including required documents, please visit the Admissions (<http://catalog.qu.edu/general-information/admissions/>) page of this catalog.
