

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN (IDN)

IDN 225. Technology for Teaching & Learning. 3 Credits.

Everyone has something to learn, and everyone has something to teach. The rapid advancement of digital technology has influenced the ways in which we do both. This course invites students from all majors to explore the evolving relationship between technology and education. We will examine how digital tools influence the ways we access and share information, build knowledge, and participate in learning communities - both formal and informal. Whether you're preparing for a career in education, healthcare, business, or the arts, this course provides a flexible, critical foundation for using technology as a tool for thoughtful instructional design.

Prerequisites: Take FYS 101.

Offered: Every year, Spring
