

CAMPUS RESOURCES

Bioanthropology Research Institute

Quinnipiac's Bioanthropology Research Institute, administered through the College of Arts and Sciences, provides research opportunities for students and faculty in a variety of disciplines; anthropology is naturally interdisciplinary, and our focus on imaging, bioarchaeology and forensic science integrates the sciences, humanities and arts. Research projects, field experiences and international coursework provide unique opportunities to experience current and ancient cultures, often leading to publications and presentations at professional conferences. The Bioanthropology Research Institute has formal relationships with many well-known domestic and international museums.

Students should contact the Bioanthropology Research Institute for more information.

Clarice L. Buckman Center

This building houses science laboratories, faculty offices and classrooms. In the center is the Clarice L. Buckman Theater, a 177-seat auditorium, which is used for guest lectures.

Communications and Computing & Engineering

CCE houses the School of Communications, the School of Computing and Engineering and the Mount Carmel Auditorium. The main floor includes collaborative classrooms, a multimedia computer classroom, a design studio, an open media lab and an audio/video equipment loan facility. The lower level includes engineering workshops and a machine shop. The building also houses the Office of Inclusive Excellence, the Center for Psychological Science, Academic Innovation and Effectiveness, plus faculty and administrative offices.

Echlin Center

Echlin Center houses the offices of Undergraduate Admissions and Financial Aid, faculty offices and classrooms. The Kresge Foundation Lecture Hall and Perloth Boardroom are located here.

Terry W. Goodwin '67 Financial Technology Center

The 2,000-square-foot Terry W. Goodwin '67 Financial Technology Center, housed in the School of Business building, is a state-of-the-art Wall Street trading room. The center provides access to various economics, accounting and financial information through subscriptions to Bloomberg, S&P Global Capital IQ, and Rotman Interactive Trader, etc. Such subscriptions, along with the software installed in the center's computer workstations, enable students to retrieve real-time financial data, develop financial analytical skills, conduct trading simulations and build financial models. Students can make real-time investment decisions and learn how the financial markets work by managing a real-life student portfolio.

Ireland's Great Hunger Institute

Ireland's Great Hunger Institute is a scholarly resource for the study of the Great Hunger, also known as An Gorta Mór—the Famine that devastated Ireland from 1845 to 1852 and continues to have repercussions and relevance in the world today. Through a program of exhibitions, lectures, conferences, course offerings and publications, the institute fosters a deeper understanding of this tragedy and its causes and consequences. The institute's collection includes rare primary and secondary sources and artifacts relating to the history of modern Ireland. The institute is located on the Mount Carmel Campus. Please contact ighi@qu.edu (ighi@quinnipiac.edu) for more information about its work and program of events.

School of Business

The School of Business building at Quinnipiac University is a multipurpose complex that houses state-of-the-art collaborative classrooms with multi-screen, interactive technology; lecture capture classrooms with the latest learning support technology; student collaboration spaces for informal collaboration, meetings, and study; dedicated student team meeting rooms; a Career Development Resource Center with dedicated student and employer resources, interview rooms, and networking space; and faculty and dean's offices. This complex is also home to the M&T Bank Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship, where students can meet with their mentors for financial, legal, marketing and technical guidance in turning their ideas into viable business solutions.

Libraries

The Arnold Bernhard Library on Quinnipiac's Mount Carmel Campus and the Edward and Barbara Netter Health Sciences Library on the North Haven Campus serve the undergraduate and graduate populations of the university and provide support for the Quinnipiac University School of Law.

Approximately 48,000 square feet in size, the Arnold Bernhard Library provides 600 seats, 16 group rooms, a 30-seat instructional facility, 24 public computers and wireless connectivity. In addition to the group study rooms, the library features individual study carrels, tables, soft seating and rocking chairs, all with magnificent views. Supporting this facility are the combined staffs of the library, academic technology and media services. The Arnold Bernhard Library building also houses the clock tower, the executive suite, the Provost suite, the Learning Commons, the Offices of Administrative Services, One Stop, Registrar and Procurement.

The Edward and Barbara Netter Health Sciences Library is the primary library for Quinnipiac University's Schools of Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences. The library is equipped with 17 public computer workstations, printers, scanners, copiers, study carrels and plenty of soft seating, which provides spectacular views of the North Haven Campus.

Each library offers a large variety of web-based resources, including ebooks, e-journals and databases, as well as print volumes, microforms and audiovisual materials.
