Quinnipiac Information Services maintains a technology knowledge base that students can use 24/7 for any technology questions. The knowledge base is an electronic repository of "articles" that address frequently asked questions, processes and procedures. These technology-related articles and tutorials are searchable and accessible from any internet connection. To access the knowledge base, go to go.qu.edu/myqkb (https://kb.quinnipiac.edu/index.php?) or select it from the Applications Tab on the home page of MyQ.