STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Student Code of Conduct

All Quinnipiac students are responsible for abiding by the standards of the Quinnipiac community and university policies, rules and/or regulations, and those who violate them are subject to disciplinary action. Any attempt to violate the Quinnipiac standards, policies, rules and/or regulations is also considered an offense worthy of discipline. Moreover, Quinnipiac recognizes and respects local, state and federal laws and does not provide safe haven or sanctuary for students who violate such laws.

The university may pursue enforcement of its own policies, whether or not legal proceedings are underway or forthcoming, and may use information from third-party sources, including but not limited to law enforcement agencies, the courts and outside media to determine whether Quinnipiac’s policies have been violated. Quinnipiac makes no attempt to shield members of the university community from the law, nor does it intervene in legal proceedings against a member of the community. These standards are announced in writing to give students general notice of community standards. The standards should be read broadly and are not designed to define misconduct in exhaustive terms.

The Student Code of Conduct process may review and impose sanctions on an individual or group involved in any criminal or civil offense.
